Mallory has grown to be the supplier you can count on for your fire, safety, and cleanroom needs.

Tim Loy, President

very proud that we have moved our company forward and can now say with confidence that we offer the best product mix, the strongest infrastructure (facilities, inventory, back-end order processing), and, most importantly, the most experienced and dedicated sales, technical support, and customer service team on the West Coast.

During this growth period, we have

- upgraded our legacy computer system to one that can alert us more quickly when potential backorders, demand spikes, or stockouts are occurring
- implemented a barecoded wireless warehouse inventory tracking and picking system, so that we have high accuracy on our shipping
- improved our advanced demand forecasting to improve service levels on every item we carry
- trained every company associate in high performance distribution so that we all strive to provide basic service brilliance.

I am really excited and proud of who we are as a company. We are sincere in our desire to stand above the other choices you have for the products we carry. We welcome your feedback anytime on how we can do better, as we value your commitment to success. We love what we do, and have a dynamic and capable group here to support you. I hope you find this catalog to be a helpful resource, and we hope to continue to grow to continue to offer the broadest product range and best value, yet still provide the local expertise and service you deserve.
